The lived visionary force is being firstly proved during implementation. For KW-Consulting-Group, the process and organizational unit level are the backbone of the company, in order to implement a vision successfully. Consultants of KW-Consulting-Group take responsibility for the development of such business models.

KW-Consulting-Group supports companies during the complete strategic change process until results have been achieved. Services cover the entire classic spectrum starting with strategy via processes/organization and ending with management systems. Consulting in client focused activities is a main focal point to enable changes in your company (“management of client value”). We form inter-disciplinary project teams together with you with theme and industry specific competencies. You decide where simple or already complex organizational structures need to be created. You also shape the optimal framework – i.e. the road to success.

As one of the first European consulting companies, KW-Consulting-Group knows the solutions from about 2.500 (!) projects and will manage together with you the future “Complex-Change” – tasks.

Manage Complex Tasks with the Proven KW-Consulting-Group Discussion Model

Complete management systems, like the balanced scorecard (BSC), must master the ever increasing and more complex structures, which change on a regular basis. KW-Consulting-Group introduces a BSC-system in your company, enabling strategic objectives along the value-added chain in processes and organisational units for the daily operation of the company.
