

The Great Engine Extinction

(Automobilwoche, 20th edition, 22nd September 2008)

Content:

The article is about the extinction of big engines. 8- and 12-cylinder engines as phase-out models, electrical engines as transition vehicles and fuel cells as future engines – downsizing is the favour of the hour. Taken these facts into account, foundries are massively constrained to question the capacities.

KW-Consulting-Group is pleased to assist you as a potential partner of this subject matter. Act now, to be able to produce on a long-term basis. Contact us now!

KRAPPOHL-WERKE